The late English historian Robert Conquest devoted much of his life to finding, rigorously documenting, and publishing the truth regarding what transpired in the Soviet Union between WWI and WWII. collective farms. The result was a catastrophic famine, the most lethal in European history. At least five million people died between 1931 and 1933 in the USSR. But instead of sending relief the Soviet state made use of the catastrophe to rid itself of a political problem. In Red Famine, Anne

Applebaum argues that more than three million of those dead were Ukrainians who perished not because they were accidental

victims of a bad policy but because the state
deliberately set out to kill them. Applebaum proves what has long been suspected: after a series of rebellions
unsettled the province, Stalin set out to destroy the Ukrainian peasantry.

The state sealed the republic's borders and seized all available food. Starvation set in rapidly, and people ate anything: grass, tree bark, dogs, corpses. In some cases, they killed one another for food.
